NATURAL MATERIALS

Today more people believe using widely manufactured products has gone too far. Consumers have become more aware when it comes to buying food, accepting nothing but fair ingredients; they want clothes made from environmentally friendly fabrics and pieces of furniture made with craftsmanship from sustainable materials. Mérens' beds blend in perfectly. A Dutch top-notch quality product made to measure with the greatest care existing of natural raw materials only, with exceptionally favourable features. Here are the main materials in a nutshell.

HORSEHAIR FOR PERFECT VENTILATION

Horsehair guarantees the best ventilation possible. Because of its exceptional, hollow structure, it is able to conduct airflow, but it also gives you a flexible and comfortable feeling. During production, horsehair is spun and curled. Next is a long steaming process to increase resilience. It is how we strengthen the natural qualities of this basic material. Given its ventilating capacity, Mérens has been adding horsehair to its mattresses. Proper ventilation will leave you with a dryer mattress and fewer house dust mites. Obviously fresh air should be allowed into the sleeping area on a daily basis.

HEMP: A NATURAL PRODUCT WITH A LONG HISTORY

Hemp has been used since time immemorial. It is a Dutch product: strong and yet flexible. And so it has been used for centuries, also as a raw material for clothing and ropes. We use it in our mattresses above the spring package to increase stability. Because the hemp plant is hardly setting any requirements to its habitat, it is cultivated in a most environmentally friendly manner.

PURE NEW WOOL

Wool always reminds us of the cold winter season. And yet wool is not only about keeping us warm. In fact it helps us beat the heat in summertime. Given its thermic features, wool significantly contributes to a comfortable mattress. It is also delightfully soft and has many more less-known qualities. It is strong, elastic, waterproof, insulating and fireproof. These features add to the superb quality of our mattresses.

CAMELHAIR

Camels are perfectly capable of handling extreme differences in temperature. So their hair is even more efficient than sheep's wool. Warm when temperatures drop, cool whenever they climb. Both camelhair and sheep's wool have a neutralising impact on static electricity. This is adding yet another dimension to your sleeping comfort.

Our mattresses are manufactured in a state-of-the-art workshop that meets the strictest demands in terms of safety and hygiene. It means that the individual qualities of our craftsmen are decisive and that any product comes about step by step through human intervention. Each mattress undeniably represents our team's dedication and professional competence. Their long and extensive experience guarantees your sleeping comfort.

BALANCED SPRINGS SYSTEM

Our bedmakers are using a balanced and advanced springs system, packing each spring into its very own case. These springs will adapt to your body for maximum support. The springs system is soft, each part moving individually along with your body. You and your partner will not experience any annoying wave motion while moving. Wake up feeling fresh and well-rested.

A MATTRESS THAT IS ALL ABOUT YOU

The level of support offered by any pocket springs mattress, is to a great extent determined by the number of springs used per square metre. The more springs, the more support your body will get. Mérens provides mattresses in three levels of support, with 375, 500 and 1000 springs per square metre respectively (the M375, M500 and M1000). Our mattresses are also suitable for electrically adjustable beds.

Each type is available in two different levels of firmness: medium and firm. The perfect firmness level and the number of springs per square metre depend on factors like body weight and personal preferences.

Natural materials will hold on to their characteristics better than synthetic alternatives. This perfectly explains the long life of our mattresses.

ESSENTIAL TOP LAYER

Your Mérens box spring combination is incomplete without Mérens' top mattress. It will add more comfort and is an absolute necessity for upholstered mattresses. Having a top mattress means you can pick a different mattress for each side of the bed, and still have a 'seamless' sleeping experience. Also a top mattress will help you extend the life of the underlying mattress. Mérens offers you three different top mattresses. Our Vita Talalay Eco Natural latex top mattress is very elastic. The top mattress with micro-pockets is wonderfully easy to care for and ventilates well. Picking our top mattress with horsehair means you want maximum ventilation and Mérens' traditional materials.

For electrically adjustable beds, we will add a split to the head of the top mattress, to make sure the height of each side can be individually adjusted.

MÉRENS VAN HEEMSKERK

MODERN DESIGN FOR OLD-FASHIONED SLEEPING COMFORT

This is our sleekest design so far. It comes with a twin-spring box – a box spring in which the mattress has already been integrated – so you will only see a single double-sized layer. You can choose your perfect mattress based on your personal preferences. We offer you two different firmness levels (medium and firm) and three levels of support. The combination is incomplete without one of our three top mattresses.

Mérens Van Heemskerk is in perfect harmony, smooth and soft at all levels. It perfectly blends in with a modern interior, perhaps with an exciting contrast with raw and unfinished materials. The saddle stitching around and at the heart of the headboard is an interesting interruption of this peaceful design. Mérens Van Heemskerk also comes in an electrically adjustable variant.

A SUSTAINABLE NIGHT'S REST ON A DUTCH MATTRESS

Perhaps you will sleep even better knowing that Mérens has paid lots of attention to a sustainable production chain. By using Dutch raw materials as often as it possibly can (e.g. local hemp, Texel sheep's wool) we are able to push down emissions caused by transport. Also we are using organic cotton, carefully monitoring the production process for the environment's sake. The long life of our Dutch high-quality products also ensures greater sustainability. Rest assured that your investment in Mérens is a sound one, one you will continue to enjoy many years to come.

CERTIFICATE OF AUTHENTICITY

You have every right to accept nothing but a genuine Mérens bed. This is why each product comes with a certificate of authenticity.
